Acknowledgements for contributions to the yearbook include: end sheets, compliments of Mike Farrell; art on division pages: Grizzly by Dennis Covel, bookshelf motif by Mrs. Cunningham.

Edwin J. Walbourn, President

The busiest person on campus is, no doubt, our own President Walbourn. He holds regularly scheduled monthly meetings with the newly appointed department chairmen and the administrators, with the administrative council, with the presidential advisory committee, with the entire faculty, and with the board of trustees. Frequently he attends the sessions of the North Central steering committee and is official host for many of the special groups that meet in the campus areas, often extending greetings or presenting talks. Representing the school at home and away from Butler County, he does extensive traveling to state, regional, and national committees and organizations. His one off-campus responsibility is that of legislative committee member of the Kansas Public Community Junior College Association. His time is truly not his own but belongs to the school he administers.

Administrative Directors

The academic year 1968-1969 found many innovations instituted in the administrative structure of Butler County Community Junior College. This year's changes included several new assignments. Dean William C. Cummins became the academic dean of the college. He is the first person to hold that title. Assuming the duties of director of admissions and registrar was Mr. Leonard J. McKinney. The responsibilities of dean of vocational-technical education and director of adult education were delegated to Mr. Ron Wilson. Mrs. Marilyn Mettler continues as director of nursing. The modifications in the administrative staff duties were designed to provide the college with the best possible system of administration.

Business Education

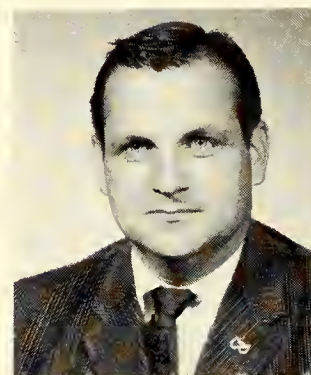

The business department offers the student a basic knowledge in the field of business. Studies include data processing, business administration, business education, and secretarial practices. Courses have been added to provide additional skills in preparing for two- and four-year degree programs in a business career. Students study what they need, follow the degree program for our associate degree, or transfer to a four-year institution for a Bachelor's Degree. This year the curriculum has been adjusted to make our degree program parallel to those at the universities in order that transfer students will have the exact courses they will need. In the picture at right, Mr. Russell demonstrates to Les Sherlock the correct wiring for a reproducing machine.

Fine Arts

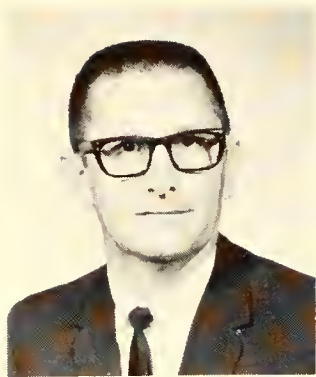

Fine Arts courses include music, art and drama. The music department offers curricula for music majors and those interested in learning more about music. Music appreciation, theory courses, and more creative work during the second year are available. Private lessons in voice and instrumental instruction also give credit in applied music. In addition, specified groups like Collegiate Singers, chorus, and stage band receive college credit.

Introduction to theater, which was offered first semester, covers all aspects of a dramatic production. Students were involved in acting while they learned about stage make-up and costuming. Also included in this course was the literature and history of the theater and techniques of set design and lighting. Each student contributed at least twenty hours on a campus production during the semester.

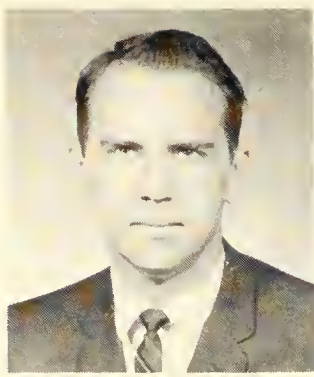

During second semester a course in voice and diction was available and one in interpretation of literature in which several drama majors enrolled.

The art department offers art appreciation for non-majors along with numerous lower division courses for those planning to major in art. Design I and II, Drawing, and Composition I was a beginning course in basic elements with emphasis on black and white media, and during the second semester drawing through the discovery of elements of form was featured. Courses in drawing and ceramics were also available. An unconventional course, design in the home, included interior decoration, lectures, field trips and house planning.

The industrial education department, headed by Mr. Mangels, has added two new teachers and four new machines and changed the name of one course. Engineering Drawing has been changed to Engineering Graphics to correlate with the engineering college courses. The welding department received two semi-automatic wire feeds and a metallic inert gas machine (M.I.G.). The auto mechanics shop has received a Sun tune-up machine which analyzes and diagnoses problems in an automatic engine. Mr. John R. Anderson and Mr. Herman Ogg are new teachers in the industrial education department. Mr. Anderson teaches in auto mechanics and Mr. Ogg replaced Mr. Lay and Mr. Bland in technical writing and applied psychology.

Science And Mathematics

Students in the math department are offered choices for modern math to analytic geometry and calculus. The science department offers both biological and physical sciences. Students in these areas gain a general knowledge of these fields. Both departments feature organizations for those students interested in these fields.

Managers

Some of the most responsible people on campus cannot well be described as managers, but they hold significant places of leadership as they manage the business of the operational staff.

Mr. Harris, business manager, was selected last summer, as one of twenty in the nation, to participate in a three-week workshop to write a uniform system of accounting for junior colleges.

Mr. Roberts, superintendent of buildings and grounds, was named vice president of the state association for the coming year.

Coach Nay serves as director of athletics and student activities, thus associating very closely with many students.

Mr. Riggs deals directly or indirectly with every student who exchanges his precious coins for the tools of learning at the book store.

And Mrs. Duncan performs the duties of the dormitory house mother for the 112 residents, listening to all of their complaints and noise, their excuses and foolishness, with patience and understanding.

Together these people direct the many activities on campus that are essential to an educational institution but are not strictly educational in nature.

Clerical Personnel

Trained clerical personnel perform essential services in various areas of the administrative offices. New positions on the staff this year include the secretary to the business manager, the computer technologist for the admissions office, and the clerical assistant to the librarians. New assignments include the secretary to the deans, and the secretaries to the registrar. New personnel, in addition to Mrs. DeVore, Mrs. Whiteside, and Mrs. Waltman, includes Mrs. Hacket in the nursing department.

Custodial Staff

The custodial staff is one of the most needed, but perhaps least recognized operational staffs on campus. Their visible duties include caring for the grounds and cleaning the buildings. Another of their tasks, which many seem to take for granted, is the unseen responsibility of engineering the electrical system on campus so that lights can be provided to make learning possible in the classrooms. In addition, Mr. Bert Stowers collects all out-going mail on a daily basis and takes it to the main post office for delivery as in lower left picture.

Cafeteria Staff

One group important to the students at BCCJC, but not directly connected with the college, is the cafeteria workers. They are employed by Food Management, Inc., located in Tulsa, Oklahoma. The school merely consults with Food Management. The college gets a certain per cent of food sales and also of the vending and pool tables.

The object of the division of the 1969 Grizzly devoted to academics is to provide a narrative in pictures of the year's achievement in the classroom and research in the library.

Fine Arts

The accomplishments achieved by students in the fine arts area of the college this year are many. The works exhibited in the pictures at right and lower right are but a sample of the outstanding works of art created in painting and ceramics classes. The stage band of the music department too, enjoyed a most successful year. All stage productions witnessed this year also helped contribute to the high quality of work emerging from the fine arts department.

Business And Industry

In the fields of business and industrial education can be found a great variety of enterprises that would suit anyone's tastes in learning. Represented on this and the following page are refrigeration, machine technology, and drafting classes from the industrial arts area. An accounting class and a business machines class represent the business department.

Humanities

Included in a cross-section of the field of humanities are the subjects of language, literature, and social sciences. Innovations in the language and literature division involved the addition of a course designed to improve reading skills, and tape machines on which the student may hear his compositions being evaluated by his instructor.

Steve Mattix, Steve Pontious, and Mr. Ralston consider literature as it is read.

Health And Science

In the health and science section, the student is offered a chance to develop skills and acquire knowledge. The entire nurses' training course, health, and first aid provide practical and useful information concerning the preservation of mankind. The sciences of physics and chemistry explore the relation of man to his universe. Recreation, as represented by bowling and volleyball on the following page, help provide physical stamina.

Library

The center of academic endeavors is the library, but the activities involved in an orderly pursuit of knowledge are as varied as the number of persons who enter the library each day.

Bryant Stateham, pictured at upper right, this semester received news that his poem, "The Fair Quest", had been accepted for publication by the National Poetry Press. The poem was selected from more than thirty thousand manuscripts submitted by college men and women from all over the nation.

Student Interests Vary

Throughout the school year, many activities are sponsored by local community groups as well as those on campus. Last fall the Chamber of Commerce sponsored a "hot dog feed" at the swimming pool for all juco students. Student organizations have presented pep rallies during the year, along with skits and some singing. Also in the early fall, the junior college sponsored a "Band Night" in which many of the local high schools participated.

Music on Campus

During the school year the various musical groups on Campus have had the opportunity to perform both on campus and for local groups in the community. The first concert of the year featured the chorus and Collegiate Singers under the direction of Mr. Dixon, and the Stage Band directed by Mr. Anderson. The music groups have also had numerous opportunities to perform at the Lions' Club, the Kiwanis Club, the Ladies' Auxiliary, and local schools.

Kevin Graves sings "The Very Thought of You."

Students participate in singing carols at the Christmas assembly.

Dramatic Arts

During the past year the drama department has presented several productions. Last fall, under the direction of Mr. Darryl Patten, the drama department presented the outstanding performance, "An Inspector Calls," by J. B. Priestly. The setting offered a suspenseful drama about a young girl who commits suicide.

Campus Favorites

Campus Favorites are sophomores nominated by clubs and organizations on the campus and later chosen by ballot in a student election. They represent the leadership qualities of the ideal junior college student.

Winners this year were Priscilla Applegate and Phil Anderson. Runners-up were Kathy Hayes, Sherry Ohmart, Don Callaway, and Paul Kukula, pictured on the opposite page.

The six were presented and honored at the winter prom, which the Student Council sponsored early in December.

Organizations

Clubs and groups played an important part on campus. Not only did they provide leadership, but they afforded individuals the ehance to pledge their membership and support to specific organizations.

Throughout the year, elubs were involved in various projects both on and off eampus. Young Democrats served the community by hosting Governor Robert Docking at a dinner during his campaign for re-election. The lower left picture depicts members of Delta Psi Omega as they pause after the production of An Inspector Calls.

At athletic gatherings, eheerleaders and the band added spirit. Drill team entertained during halftime at football and basketball games.

Student Council

Student Council was made up of three representatives from each class, sophomore and freshmen class presidents and representatives from various clubs on campus. The officers were elected in the spring of 1968; they began making plans in the summer which they brought into reality early by sponsoring an evening dance (which was rained out) under the library on the opening day of school. Also on the first day of classes, the president of Student Council, along with President Walbourn, addressed the student body at orientation.

After fall elections provided the remaining members of the council, it focused its attention on homecoming. For the first time in Grizzly history, floats were scheduled for homecoming. Junior Chamber of Commerce financed the float-making and Student Council members arranged that clubs make their floats to be displayed in a parade the afternoon of the game. All efforts were in vain since rain caused cancellation of the parade.

In addition to the homecoming dance, StuCo sponsored victory dances after football and basketball games. In the spring the council's last major project was the banquet and prom which was a formal and memorable affair.

Grizzly Staff

The Grizzly staff of six girls devoted regular class time and extra hours during the first semester to produce the yearbook. This was the first book whose staff members received two semesters credit for their work. Instead of having an editor-in-chief, each member was responsible for a specific section.

Religious Groups

The United Christian Fellowship offers an ecumenical fellowship for college students and faculty alike. The year's program is planned by a council to recognize religious holidays, to give emphasis to moral and religious values in daily living and to provide a wholesome fellowship.

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes, involving about 20 men, has functioned on campus for the first time this year. Although chartered separately, the college and high school units meet together in "huddles" with college men leading discussion groups. Coaches Kohls and Isom serve as sponsors.

The Newman Club provides social, intellectual, and religious activities for Catholic youth and other interested students on the campus. The club held a Halloween party and several discussion groups, and collected food for a Christmas gift to the residents at St. Joseph's Home.

Music Groups

Create Harmony

Campus music groups participated in several concerts and programs throughout the year. Students in Collegiate Singers were chosen by audition. This group sang for various community gatherings in addition to staging fall and Christmas concerts. Another select group was the stage band which played popular and jazz numbers on and off campus.

The chorus performed in the fall concert and was also a part of the Christmas opera and Christmas concert. It also contributed to the program which was given during the holiday season at Jefferson elementary school.

The college band played at home games and for pep rallies.

Two smaller groups were chosen from members of Collegiate Singers: a quartet of male voices and a girls' trio. They presented special numbers at school concerts. These groups had the advantage of being small enough to be invited to represent the school at civic gatherings throughout the county.

Women's Trio: Teri Prilliman, Kathy Perkins, Karen Parker.

“Lantern” Staff

Members of the Lantern staff received two hours credit in journalism each semester. During the first semester, the newspaper production class served as the editing staff. They assigned stories to the introduction to journalism class whose responsibility was to provide most of the copy for this bi-monthly newspaper. The page editors (from the advanced class) corrected the copy, measured it by column inches and then placed it on the pages. Next, they wrote headlines and cutlines and then sent all the material to the publisher.

The editors during the second semester were members of the Newspaper Production II and editing classes. Again, the introduction class contributed stories.

Debate Squad

This year's debate squad under the direction of the new coach, Michael Hadley, had a busy year attending 22 tournaments, some as far away as Connecticut. They competed in nearly three hundred rounds of debate. The team of James Wilson and Dick Price placed in several tournaments; Pam Bertram and Vicki Harvey placed in some; and the squad, as a whole, placed in eight of the tournaments entered by the middle of February. The total season's record, will, of necessity, need to be published in the spring supplement.

Juco Voices

The Juco Voices, a group of students selected by audition, presented programs of prose and poetry in the medium of choric verse and rhythmic speech. In addition to local performances the group was commissioned by the United Methodist Church to prepare recorded curriculum materials of scriptural and secular selections for use in teaching the Bible to third and fourth grades. They also appeared at the Iowa State University Fine Arts Festival and at the Metropolitan Area Children's Theatre in Kansas City, Kansas.

Delta Psi Omega

The Delta Psi Omega is a national honor dramatic fraternity designed to give recognition to junior college students interested in the theatre arts. Participation included acting, stagecraft, interpretation, publicity, costuming, and this past year experiencing the problems of touring. For the first time five major productions were staged; and one production, representing the main stream of educational theatre was presented to approximately 5,000 children in Butler County, in Wichita, and in Topeka.

SKSTA and Science Club

Students interested in teaching as a profession could join the Student Kansas State Teachers Association. They learn what it is like "on the other side of the desk."

In October, the officers went to a convention in Topeka where they learned various teaching methods. The club's project of the year occurred when they sponsored a Christmas party for retarded children.

Science Club consisted of those involved in some phase of science. The purpose was to cover various aspects of science not covered in the classroom. Occasionally, guest speakers were invited to lecture.

Engineers

The Future Engineers seek to acquaint the members with offerings in various fields of engineering. Professors from the state universities are invited to speak of the educational programs in their respective schools and to explain the different requirements. Members of the club attended open houses and various exhibits at K.U., K. State and W.S.U.

Nurses

Students enrolled in the course of nursing are active members of the Nursing Students Association. First semester students are included as honorary members. Upon completion of the course of study on campus, they prepare to write the state examination, which, when passed, entitles them to become registered nurses under the Kansas State Nursing Association.

Activities

Group

Participation

Campus organizations participated in numerous activities during the school year. The Student Council sponsored many events, including dances and a contest entitled "Pennies for Julie." This was a contest between the freshman and sophomore classes to see who could raise the most money for Julie Wilkerson, a handicapped child. Sophomores collected the greatest amount.

The Student Union was a popular place of activity. Card-playing was a favorite pastime for many while others visited, studied or slept in the lounge. In addition, clubs held informal meetings from time to time in the lounge, and eating at the snack bar or in the cafeteria proved important for many.

Women's Dormitory

The dormitory is more than just a place to live. The girls studied, visited and watched television, to name a few pastimes. The telephone was a favorite spot for many. They also exchanged confidences, gave each other grooming tips and spent much time "being beautiful." (One way to kill time is to buy a wig — middle right picture).

Men's Dormitory

Studying was a pastime for many in the men's dorm, but usually not a favorite occupation. Sometimes, discussions about school, sports and girls could be heard from behind someone's closed door. Viewing television and "shooting the breeze" were popular activities.

Veterans' Club

Members of Veterans' Club are men who at one time have actively served in a branch of the Armed Forces. They took an active part in campus activities. Most notably, they added valuable enthusiasm at football games by cheering together as a unit behind their Veterans' Club banner.

The club also provided unity among the veterans as well as involved them with various other campus functions.

Technical Club

The Technical Club is made up of members of the various technical classes. There were representatives from auto-body, mechanics, drafting, air conditioning, welding and electronics. Mainly, the members had in common the fact that their fields paralleled. Each field was represented by a faculty advisor.

Cheerleaders And Honey Bears

New this year were boy yell-leaders who added spirit during the football season. The cheerleaders traditionally led cheers and created enthusiasm at athletic contests. They provided entertainment at pep rallies by having skits and leading the crowd in chants and cheers as they are doing in the picture below.

The drill team, known as the Honey Bears, is made up of about 20 girls who are selected by try-outs (middle left picture). This group performed pom-pon routines at games at home and at area high schools. In addition, they also participated in the United Fund Parade and in a parade in Eureka.

Athletics

Spring Activities

In its second year at BCCJC, a total athletic program has established communications with the NJCAA, giving national recognition and national participation in all sports. The department has direct communication with the commissioner of the league and with all athletic directors of the conference.

Future development will provide a competitive interscholastic program. Other plans for the future include a weekly radio program, a wrestling program by 1970, and a lettermen's club.

Injuries to Rusty Spindel and Randle Anderson hampered the Grizzlies.

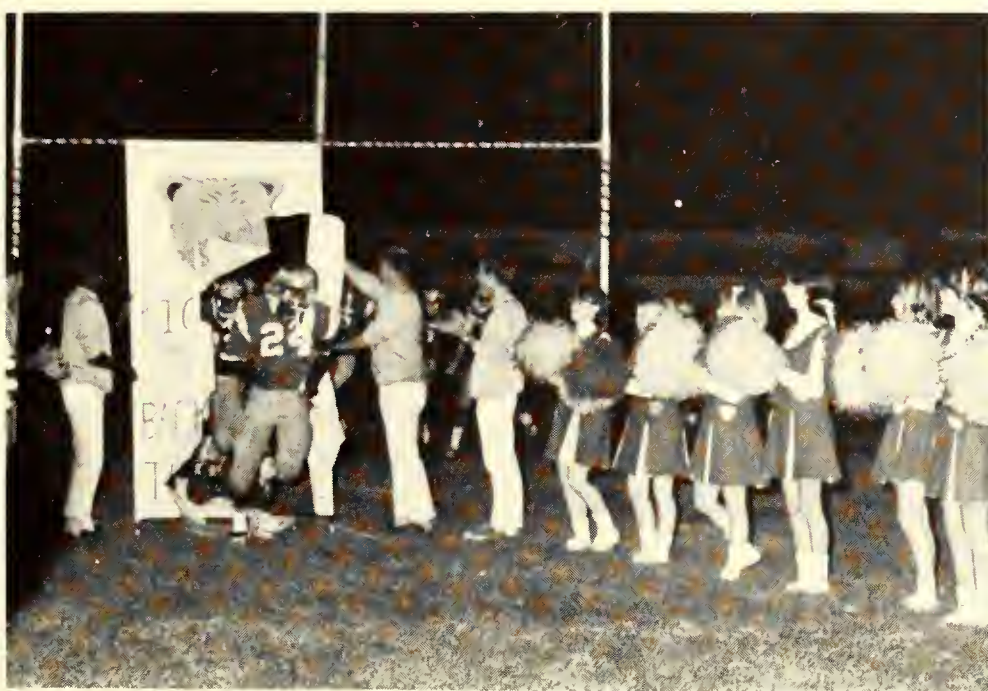

Watching and waiting are all a part of the game.

Bears 1968 Home Season Falters 2-5

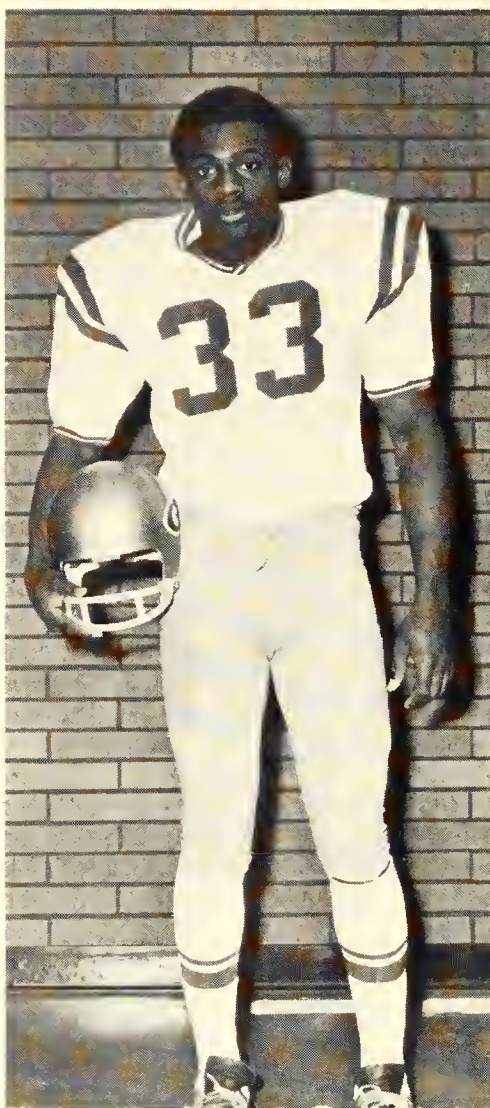

For the Grizzlies, Dodge City (lower right) and Coffeyville (left) proved a slim second half lead, but hopes of victory were downed in late play. These losses cost in several ways: They dropped the Bears' record to 1-4 and saw several key men hurt. The second home victory came with 37-13 defeat of Highland (lower left). Eight games behind, the Bears met Hutchinson (below) and ended with a score of 13-32 to finish the home playing season.

Outstanding Gridmen

The 1968-69 Football season saw three gridmen voted first string All-Conference. Buck Gibson, Ivie Moore, and John Pica were voted by all coaches in conference play as outstanding players. All three have been offered scholarships to major colleges.

Terry Laudermilk, offense, Tony Anderson, offense, and John Ireland, defense were named Honorable Mention.

David DeHoff

Preston Carrington

For the first time since 1953 the basketball team placed first in the western division of the Jayhawk Junior College Conference. The team drew a bye in the sub-regional tournament at Dodge City and defeated Dodge City and Hutchinson to place first. In the Region 6 tournament at Hutchinson the Grizzlies defeated Coffeyville and Cloud County but were defeated by Hutchinson to take second in the region. Every player scored in the regional tournament.

A school scoring record was apparently broken during the season when the team won over Arkansas City 108-79. The previous known high score was made Dec. 16, 1963, when the local team defeated Central College 106-79.

Robert Thurman and Preston Carrington were unanimous selections for All-Jayhawk honors, and David DeHoff shared a position.

Jeff Evans finishes the Invitational with ninth.

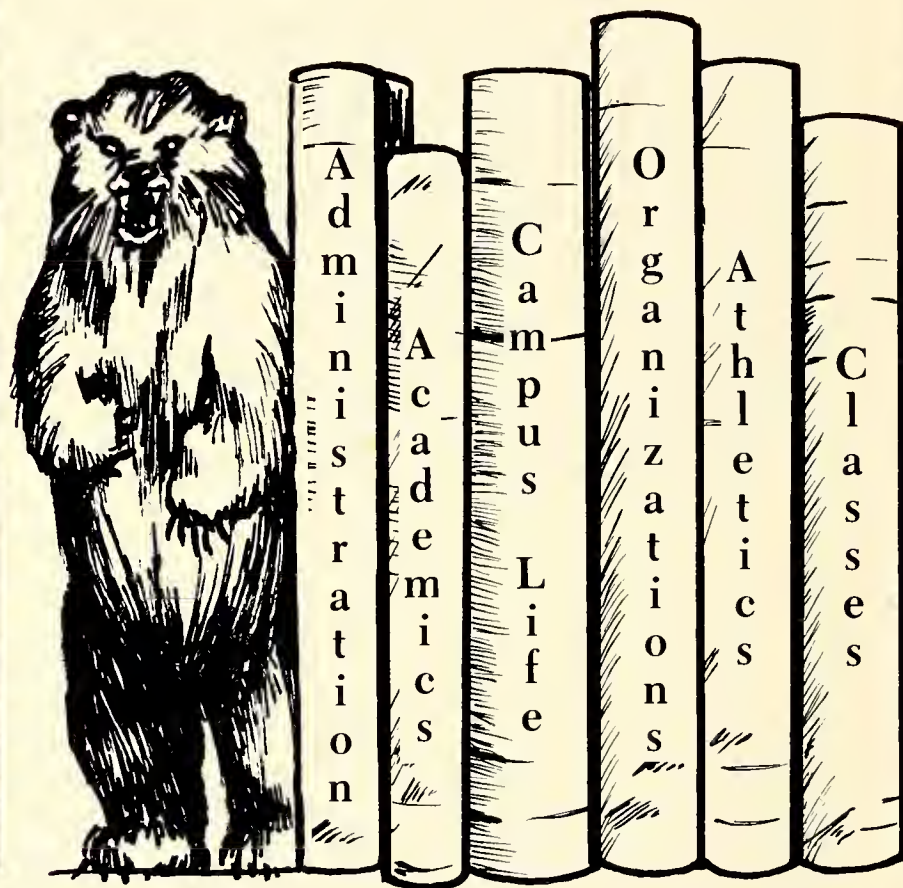

Individual Efforts

Individuals on the Cross-Country team have all been recognized for their efforts. Coach Ollie Isom praised the boys' efforts to win and bring honor to BCCJC.

This year's schedule included meets at Haskell, Allen County, Iola, Wichita, Manhattan, and El Dorado.

Returning from last year were Larry Nae, Jeff Evans, Don Callaway, and Dick Gertz.

CLASSES

A total enrollment of 1335 students, 63 of whom had special status, set a new school record this year. Pictures representing class activities which involve many people and interests appear throughout this section. At left Shirley Tarter leaves her ID card with Sandy Eakles for entrance to the library. Below, right, students assemble for orientation convocation; left, Austin Lowry demonstrates his artistic skill. On opposite page above, Robert Evans replaces a muffler; lower left, Mrs. Longfellow directs a typing class; and lower right, Randle Anderson and Jo Lively have fun.

Select officers

Semester Changes

The new semester brought new personnel to the campus. Mr. Lynn Havel filled a vacancy in the art department. Mrs. Joy Day assumed the duties of the secretary in the counseling department, and Mrs. Beula McAllister became secretary in the administration building. In addition, approximately 150 new students enrolled for the second semester.

Spring Activities

Track and Field

The BCCJC track team climaxed the year by placing fourth in the National Junior College Meet. The Bruin thin-clads captured seven other championships: Northern Oklahoma, Kansas State Freshmen-Junior College Indoor Meet, Garden City Relays, Dodge City Relays, Hutchinson Night Relays, Kansas Jayhawk Junior College Conference, and the Butler County Relays. The Grizzlies won 26 trophies at the Arkansas Relays. Remaining undefeated in junior college competition are Don Callaway (mile, and two-mile), Clardy Vinson (880), and the mile relay team.

National Honors

Two groups of BCCJC students won fourth place positions in national competition during the spring semester.

Track men won three firsts, two seconds, and one fourth place in the National Junior College Track and Field Meet in Garden City, May 15-17. All-Americans who placed in the top three positions are Don Callaway, first, two-mile run; Clardy Vinson, first, 880-yard dash; Vinson, Dick Hinnen, Jack Crowder, and Dale Alexander, first, mile relay; and Preston Carrington, second in 100-yard dash and second in 120-yard high hurdles. Callaway and Vinson set new national records in their solo events. Pat Doyle placed fourth in the pole vault.

Debate Teams Dick Price and Jim Wilson placed fourth in the National Phi Rho Pi debates in Phoenix. Vicki Harvey and Pam Bertram finished with a 3-3 record.

Blue Hawaii

On the evening of May 10, students, faculty members, and their guests were feted at the annual banquet and prom. Decorations and backdrop were appropriately arranged to accent the theme, "Blue Hawaii." Phil Anderson, president of the student council, was master of ceremonies, and Edwin J. Walbourn, president of Butler County Community Junior College, was the guest speaker. Following the dinner, which was served by cooperating costumed waiters, the dining room was converted into an area for dancing. Refreshments were served in the Blue Room.

Priscilla Applegate wins Miss Butler County award.

Academic Honors

Four students achieved highest honors for both semesters by maintaining a 4.00 average and being named to the President's Honor Roll. Those four are pictured at the right. Steven Mattix was graduated Summa Cum Laude with a 4.00 average for both years at the college. BELOW are pictured those students who were named to the President's Honor Roll for one semester.

At the bottom of the page is listed the Deans' Honor Roll. Students named to this honor maintained an average between 3.5 and 3.9 and were enrolled in at least 12 hours of work during the semester.

Order of the Purple

Twenty-two graduating sophomores were named to the Order of the Purple for maintaining a 3.25 grade average for three semesters and being enrolled for at least one year at BCCJC, carrying twelve hours per semester. The faculty honored these students on May 6 at a banquet in the Blue Room. Mr. Chism presided at the dinner, and Mr. Everett Kohls spoke to the students (below).

To date 295 students have earned membership in the Order of the Purple.

Faculty and students share honor banquet.

Klassen, Sherry Williams, Mrs. Marilyn Mettler, R.N.. THIRD ROW: Miss Anita Whitson, R.N., Mrs. Barbara Jo Riddle, R.N., and Mrs. Mary Davis, R.N.

Graduate Nurses

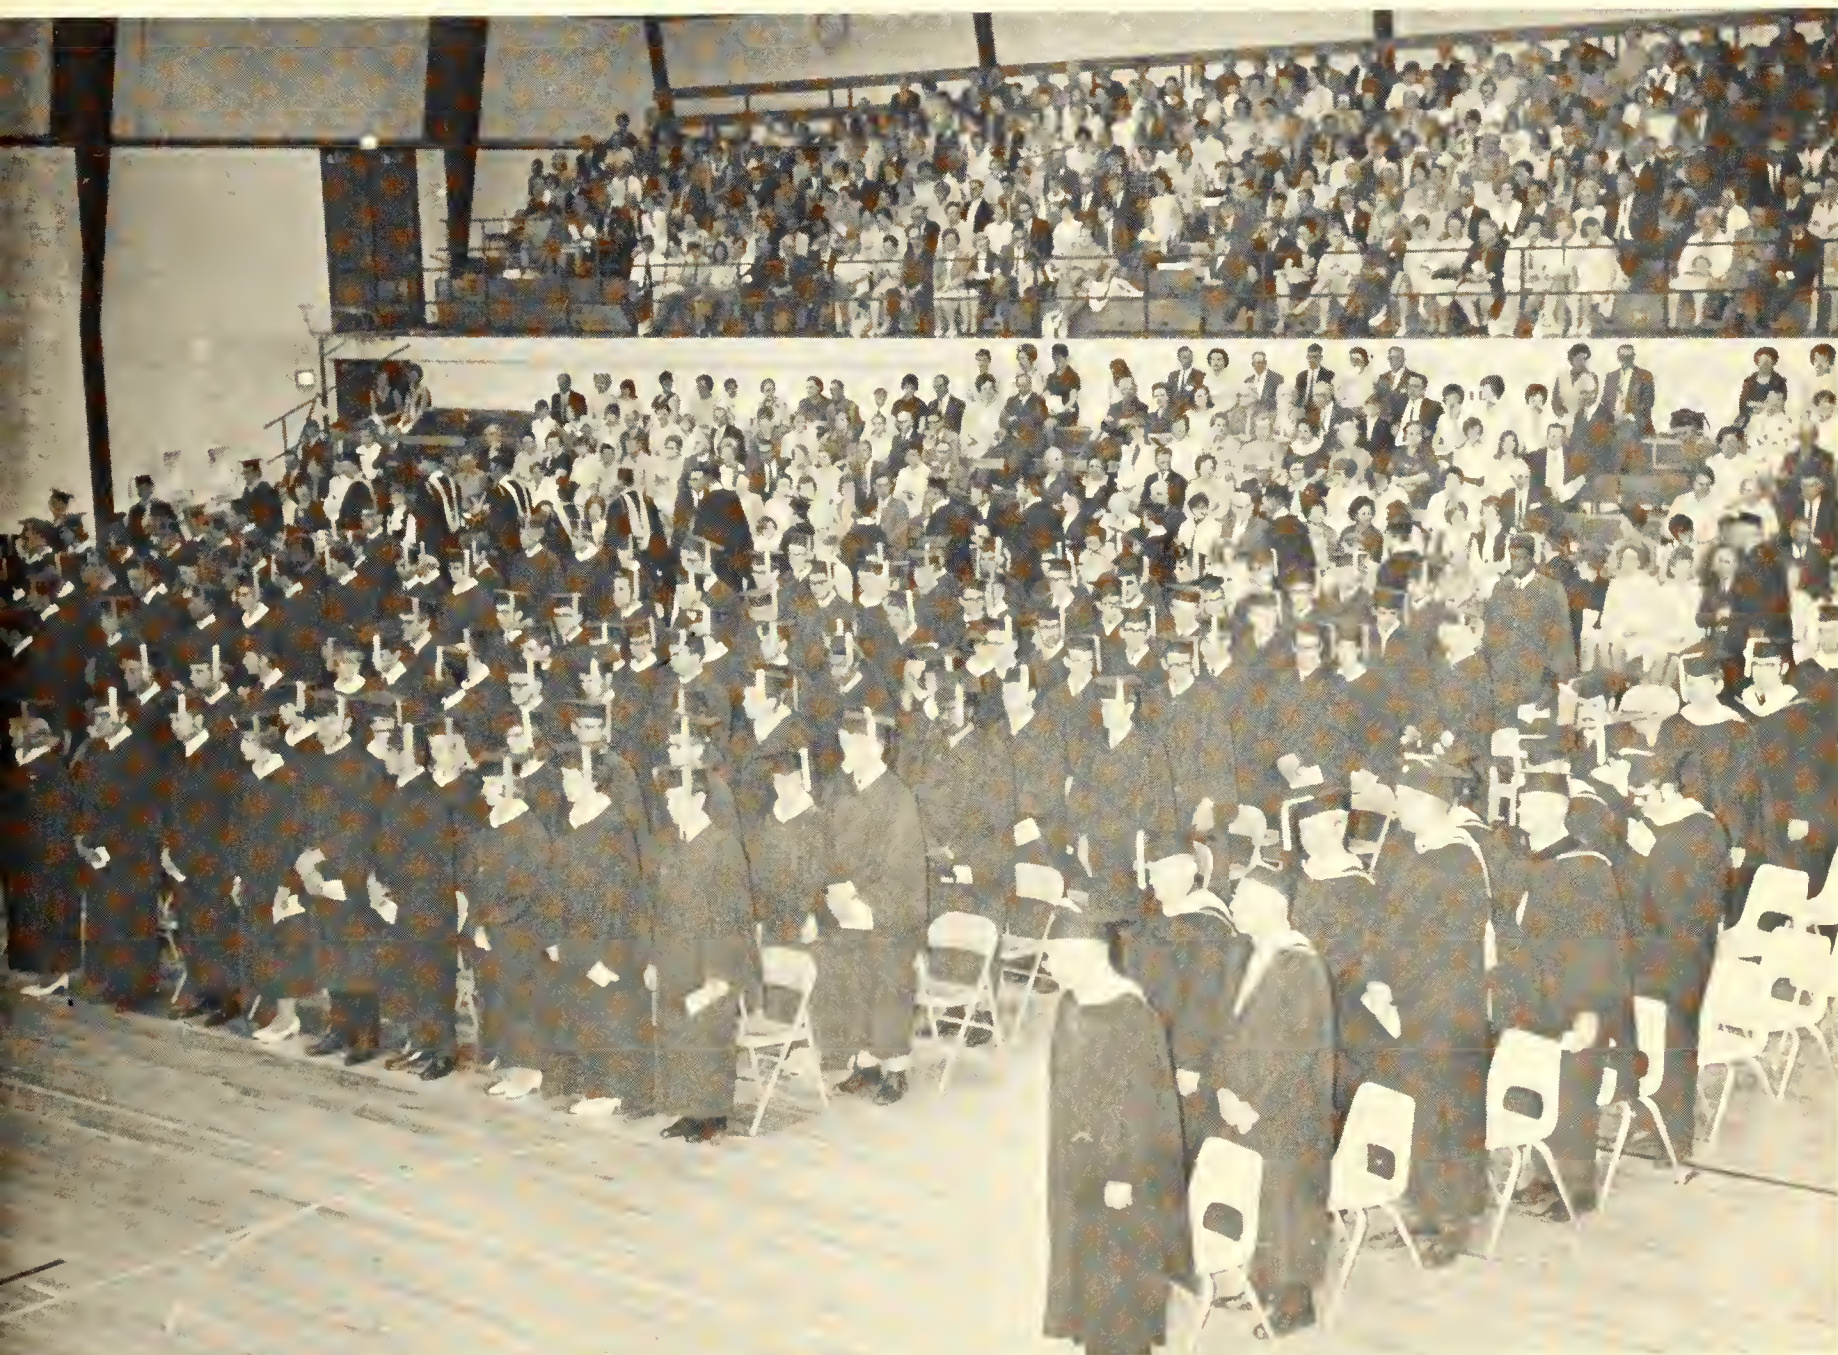

Part of commencement activities for the graduating nurses included a breakfast for them and members of their families. Miss Whitson presided, and Sam Robertson, president of the endowment association, was guest speaker. Mrs. Mettler pinned the school's nursing pin on each member, following which Betty Poffinbarger, president of the student nurses' association, gave a response. Mary Lee, a transfer student from California, will complete her studies during summer school.

Commencement

A record class of 224 students was graduated at the forty-second annual commencement of the college. John W. Henderson, president of Washburn University of Topeka, addressed the graduates and the large crowd of guests. A heavy rain just before commencement exercises resulted in an inside academic procession.
